

Happy Friday, Farm Friends!

We wanted to pop into your inbox with just a couple of updates about farm happenings!

But first, enjoy these beautiful flowers from our front yard! This is always such a glorious time of year.

Spring Plants Galore! Extra Day for Plant Sale!

Sorry for having to swap around dates for last weekend's plant sale -- we appreciate you rolling with us. Although the weather wasn't as dire as predicted when we decided to reschedule the Saturday event, it still wasn't a very nice day.

The forecast for tomorrow (Friday 3/29) is wonderful -- sunny with temps in the upper 60s -- although it will be a bit breezy. Friday's plant sale hours are from 10-3.

And good news for those of you who can't make a Friday event! We have added a couple of hours on Saturday (3/30) -- we'll be open from 10-noon. And the forecast shows an even nicer day!

We had a fabulous turnout last week but we're still well-stocked with lots of beautiful plants. Only a few items have sold out. The plant list has been updated and is posted on our website. A popular item has been our Everbearing Strawberry plants. We went through so many of them last week that Elise potted up some more!

In addition to plants and soil amendments, we'll have a few of our delicious Snacking cucumbers available! They've just started to produce, so you'll be getting the first taste of these crisp, flavorful cukes. These are definitely a fan favorite!

We know that this is Easter weekend and understand that many of you have events with your church. We appreciate that. And we truly do not want to interfere with your planned activities.

We'll pass along advice from Cheryl's Aunt Ruth, a very special person who lived to be 101. A woman of deep faith and regular church goer, Aunt Ruth always told us that you should plant something on Good Friday. Good advice, we think! We'll be making sure that we get something in the ground on Friday!

That's the news for this week, friends! Just a quick announcement -- we'll be back at Cobblestone Farmers Market NEXT Saturday, April 6. This will be the opening market of their main season! We'll be there every week this year with our delicious Organic products. Stay tuned for next week's newsletter -- we'll provide a list of what you can expect to see on our tables at market!

Happy Easter and have a great weekend! It's going to be beautiful!

Until next week,
Cheryl & Ray
